Predict President To Veto Pay Hike For U. S. Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed a "hardship" immigration bill designed to allow more than 60,000 immigrants to enter this country in the next two years.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern senators fighting a losing last stand against the civil rights bill stood all but alone today in the path of congressional adjournment.

House-Senate conferees called meetings to compromise on the foreign aid money bill and legislation aimed at protecting FBI files. Fast action was expected.

The House itself was ready to go home on short notice. But the southerners were expected to drag out the debate over civil rights for two or three more days—possibly into next week.

At the same time, this was the status of other major legislation:

Immigration: The House called up its so-called hardship immigration bill for action. It would open American shores to thousands of additional immigrants. The Senate has passed a similar bill.

Pay: The Senate passed by top-heavy votes bills that would fatten the pay envelopes of 1,488,000 postal and federal white collar workers by an estimated $816,640,000. Both bills—already sped through the House—went to the White House. Republicans predicted both would be vetoed as inflationary.

Postal: The administration's postal rate boost bill that would bring in an extra half-billion a year in revenue appeared firmly shelved in the Senate Post Office Committee. The House has passed it.

Crowds filled the galleries intermittently as the 85th Congress struggled through the final days of the session.

Thousands of spectators gathered to watch the House pass the new compromise civil rights bill Tuesday and rush it to the Senate. But only a scattering of on-lookers watched the Senate debate it Tuesday night until nearly midnight.

Early in the evening an ailing old man was helped to the Senate floor by two aides. Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-W. Va.) left a hospital bed to vote for the federal pay boost bills.

Probe Excess Spare Parts in Arctic Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigating subcommittee today sought to learn from Air Force officials how 44 million dollars worth of excess spare parts accumulated at nine Arctic bases.

Maj. Gen. John D. Ryan, director of material of the Strategic Air Command, was called as an early witness. The Strategic Air Command took over major bases in the area from the Northeast Air Command last April 1.

The subcommittee said some of the surplus had been accumulated since the Korean War. Some spare parts were stored on the Arctic beaches and were damaged by the weather, it said.

"IT'S ONLY ANOTHER HORSE RACE," said a racing fan at Du Quoin Tuesday for running of the famed Hambletonian stakes. "But, it's the only place in the world where you can see it," he added. And thousands of people were on hand to see the various heats of the race. Some idea of the vastness of the crowd is given in this picture taken near the south temporary grand stand at the Du Quoin fairgrounds. The large, permanent grandstand in the distance and another temporary bleacher to the north are shown.

Important Developments

Chicago Police Seek Teen-Agers To Quiz About Anderson Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Police Capt. Harry Penzin said today authorities are "unearthing important developments" that could lead to a motive for the torso slaying of Judith Mae Andersen, 15.

Authorities said they wanted to question Nicholas Abbatacola, 18, a brother of Judith Mae's girl friend, and Terry Johnson, 15, another girl friend of the victim, in hopes they might be able to shed light on the mystery.

An attorney for the Abbatacola family said Nicholas would be available for questioning today. The Johnson girl was reported to be on a vacation in New England with her parents.

Police also reported that a cab driver, Shy Diamond, told them he saw a girl answering Judith Mae's description enter a car with two men the night the victim disappeared. The episode occurred about 10 blocks from the Andersen home.

Penzin said he wanted to question the Johnson girl about a friend who owns a boat and once allegedly offered to take Judith Mae for a ride in it.

Judith Mae's butchered body was found in two oil drums floating in a Lake Michigan harbor.

Funeral for Mrs. Austin Thursday

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Austin, 84, who died in the home of her son, Othel Austin, superintendent of schools in Ridgway, Monday, will be held in the Union Ridge Presbyterian church at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. Elder T. Leo Dodd will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Strong northeast winds have forced the Atomic Energy Commission to postpone for 24 hours the firing of a delicate nuclear device called "Smoky."

Charges Indicate AFL-CIO Opposes Hoffa Candidacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—By filing corruption charges against James R. Hoffa the AFL-CIO has given a tip-off that it opposes him as president of the giant Teamsters Union, informed labor sources said today.

Elevation of Hoffa now from vice president to president of the Teamsters would almost insure the ouster of the union from the AFL-CIO, the sources said.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee Tuesday sent the charges against Hoffa, Teamster President Dave Beck and Vice Presidents Frank Brewster and Sidney Brennan to the Teamsters Union. The charges will be aired before the committee late next week at a meeting here.

Adm. Dufek Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today presented the Distinguished Service Medal to Rear Adm. George J. Dufek (ret.) for his "exceptionally meritorious service" in commanding Operations Deep Freeze in Antarctica.

Eldorado High Registration to Be Thursday, Friday

Registration at the Eldorado Township High school will be held Thursday and Friday, Principal J. Ward Barnes has announced, with classes starting Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Seniors will register Thursday, starting at 8:30 a. m. and Juniors will be registered Thursday afternoon, beginning at 1. Freshmen will register at 8:30 Friday morning and Sophomores will register at 1 p. m. Friday.

Bus schedules for the two-day registration—Thursday: Seniors will be picked up on the morning noon; Juniors will be picked up at noon and returned home following completion of registration. The same schedule will be followed Friday for freshmen and sophomores respectively.

A registration fee of $10 will be charged each student, which will cover book rental and other necessary fees. This fee is payable at the rate of $5 each semester.

There will be eight class periods of 45 minutes each, with a staggered lunch period during the 5th hour, Mr. Barnes said.

A car key board will be provided where all students who drive to school will deposit keys during the school day. Students will be allowed to bring cars to the ETHS only after a notarized release has been signed by the parent absolving the school of blame for accidents. Driving or riding cars will not be permitted during the school day.

Fears Traffic Jam

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—The Marin County Board of Supervisors turned down a nudist organization's request to bathe in the raw on a secluded stretch of Marin Beach. It would "create a parking problem for spectators as well as a patrolling problem for the sheriff," Supervisor William D. Fusselman said.

At Least He Tried

GARFIELD, N. J. (AP)—George Earles, 41, tried too hard to be helpful Tuesday. He grabbed a burning bedcover from a neighbor's apartment, put it in his car and drove to a fire house where the blaze was put out. Police later arrested Earles on a drunken driving charge.

Arms Parley Salvage Hope Of Stassen

Russia Repeatedly Rejects Western Reduction Plans

LONDON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen still hopes "something can be salvaged" from the disarmament conference here despite Russia's repeated rejections of Western arms reduction plans, it was reported today.

Sources said the U. S. delegate will seek Soviet acceptance of his "minimum open skies" proposal—covering air inspection of the Arctic—when the arms talks resume today.

Russian Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin, who flatly rejected Stassen's "maximum" air inspection plan Tuesday, brushed off the minimum proposal at the same time as something that could "hardly be regarded seriously."

Stassen was said to feel that left the door open to further discussion of the issue.

Meanwhile, the Soviet propaganda machine was blasting out Russia's claim to have tested a successful intercontinental ballistic missile. A Radio Moscow broadcast today said the claim "ought to cool off Western hotbeds."

Accused of Driving Off, Leaving Seven Children at Motel

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP)—Sheriff's police today held a father who allegedly drove off from a DeWitt, Iowa, motel last Friday, leaving his seven children to shift for themselves.

Clinton County authorities said they planned to file child abandonment charges against Francis Smith, 52, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Smith was arrested here Tuesday when Sheriff H. R. Delahoyde became suspicious of a story the father told the Red Cross. Smith said he was an Army lieutenant and that his car had burned.

Syria Smuggles Arms, Charged

Charge Going to Subversive Elements In Jordan, Lebanon

By MURRAY BROWN

United Press Staff Correspondent

An authoritative Western source said today Syria is smuggling arms to subversive elements in pro-Western Jordan and Lebanon.

"We have definite proof of this," the source said in Istanbul.

The statement came even while U. S. Undersecretary of State Loy Henderson prepared to leave Ankara for Beirut to confer with Lebanese officials on the Syrian crisis.

Henderson, who was urgently dispatched to the Middle East last week-end, said his talks with Turkish leaders and the rulers of pro-Western Jordan and Iraq were "extremely helpful."

While in Beirut, Henderson planned to meet also with other top U. S. diplomats, including members of the embassy staff in Damascus.

Henderson has refused to enter into speculation on his hurry-up mission to the Middle East. It was obvious, however, that the United States and its pro-Western Middle East friends were searching for ways to combat Syria's slow drift into the Soviet orbit.

Release More Doses Asian Flu Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service today released 562,610 more doses of Asian flu vaccine.

The vaccine is the only known protection against the epidemic which is expected to sweep the nation this fall or winter.

The new supply brings to 1,149,610 the number of shots cleared for distribution to pharmacists, physicians and health agencies since Aug. 12.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney predicted that between 80 and 85 million doses—enough to inoculate about half the U. S. population—will be produced by Jan. 1.

Democrat to Get Late Sen. McCarthy Seat

Blow to GOP in Washington; Had Counted on Victory

By RAY DOHERTY

United Press Staff Correspondent

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Democrat William Proxmire, Wisconsin's upset choice to replace the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, asked state officials today to cut unnecessary red tape so he can get to Washington immediately.

The 41-year-old baldish Proxmire defeated former Gov. Walter Kohler, an Eisenhower Republican, by a whopping 116,000-vote majority.

The state Democratic Party called the election of Wisconsin's first Democratic senator since 1932 "an earthquake victory."

Returns from 3.35% of 3,361 precincts gave Proxmire 435,467 votes and Kohler 318,894. Three other independent candidates never were in the running and got fewer than 25,000 votes combined.

At Washington, Wisconsin's senatorial election returns have hit the Republicans where it hurts.

They counted on winning the Wisconsin Senate seat to keep them on the throne of control of the Senate. They would take over it and when an act of God elected a Republican governor to appoint a senator to replace a Democrat who died.

Instead, the victory of Democrat Proxmire gave Senate Democrats welcome insurance that they would retain control of the Senate until after the 1958 elections. And they rate as favorites to stay in command after 1958.

The Republicans can blame their defeat on Wisconsin's strange breed of politics. Otherwise, they must hunt for alibis based on a party split, stay-at-home voters, throat-cutting by conservative Republicans and continuing GOP trouble in the farm belt.

Tuesday's special election in Wisconsin was held to fill the vacant seat of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, who was no admirer of President Eisenhower.

Kohler is an Eisenhower Republican, a former three-term governor, who won the senatorial nomination by polling less than a majority of the primary vote against a field of conservative or anti-administration Republicans.

Proxmire is a former three-term congressman, who won the senatorial nomination by polling less than a majority of the primary vote against a field of conservative or anti-administration Republicans.

Cash for College

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Temporarily, at least, the pressing problems of financing the great growth of America's elementary and secondary schools have been left to the states and cities. The widely held view that they can manage the matter will now be tested.

Hard on the heels of this difficulty, however, comes the question of how to keep pace with the vastly expanding college population in America.

In its recent report, the President's committee on higher education forecast a doubling of college enrollments by 1970 to some six million students. The obvious question: Where will they find a place?

Present colleges and universities could not possibly accommodate them. And the nation has only 13 years to make ready for this engulfing tide. When one realizes how long America's existing college "plant" has been building, he can gain some idea of the problem's size.

Unless hundreds of thousands of young Americans are to be deprived of the college training they need and want more and more,
the country must plan now for their storming of the college gates.

Mr. Eisenhower's committee has some useful suggestions:
Faculty salaries need to be hiked up to 80 per cent to attract teachers in sufficient number and quality to bear the rising load.

Students — or their parents — should get marked help in meeting the expenses of schooling.
This could include tax deductions
for school outlays, and more credit facilities for students.

Congress ought to encourage bigger financial contributions from private sources by making the tax laws on the subject more favorable. And it could well continue college housing loans and other existing educational aids.

Except for these last proposals
though, the group does not grapple hard with the fundamental matter: Who is to provide the money for so huge an expansion of the country's college establishment?

Clearly, digging up such sums can't be left to chance, or the high level training of countless young Americans may be a dream unfulfilled. If to get a sensible financing plan means another tour of duty for the President's committee, then most citizens would say:
"Let's have it."

It's Easy... for a Kangaroo

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
There's Grassroots Teamster
Sentiment Against Hoffa; Ike
Ignored Unanimous Bankers'
Recommendation For Bank
Policeman; Serious Bank
Scandal Cleaned Up In California.

WASHINGTON. — Despite all the headlines and the sure-shot speculations that Jimmy Hoffa will be next head of the Teamsters, inside fact is that AFL-CIO President George Meany has received thousands of letters from individual Teamsters and locals pledging that they will bolt Hoffa
if he tries to take them out of the AFL-CIO.

Actually Meany thought he had a promise from Honest John English, the Teamster treasurer, to start cleaning house sometime ago.
But English was slow. Result:
Hoffa's surprise acquittal bounced
up against English and for Hoffa.

Meanwhile another honest
Teamster, Congressman Jack Shelly, Democrat of San Francisco, had been too modest about letting his candidacy become known.

Shelly fought Dave Beck's goons 20 years ago at Long Beach and nearly lost his life. He opposed using baseball bats and cargo hooks to keep longshoremen from going on the docks. So Teamster goons used those same weapons on him. They bashed in his chest and nearly put out one eye.

Shelly is now serving in Congress, has a fine record, suffered from a heart attack, but still consider himself as physically fit as Eisenhower or Lyndon Johnson.
He is willing to run, but like Eisenhower, wants to be drafted. In his case, however, the Teamster
machine is all on Hoffa's side, whereas in Eisenhower's case, the GOP machine was on Ike's side.

Result: Despite grassroots sentiment against Hoffa, it will be a miracle if Shelly is drafted.

INSPECTING THE BANKS

An unusual thing happened the other day among the banks of the 48 states, which don't usually agree unanimously. They all telegraphed Eisenhower, recommending the same man for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation which guarantees safe deposits to the American public. This was the first time in 55 years there has been complete unanimity among the association of state banks.

The man they recommended was William A. Burkett, superintendent of banks for California.
Ignoring this unanimity, Eisenhower appointed ex-Congressman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan to this key post.

Wolcott is a fine, honest old gentleman who retired from Congress after serving on the House Banking and Currency committee. But his appointment runs counter to the policy Ike announced at the Williamsburg Governors' conference to give the states more participation in federal government.

For the FDIC is now dominated by the National banks, rather than the state banks. And what most people — perhaps including Eisenhower — don't realize is that national banks are not subject to FDIC inspection, only state banks.
Furthermore, there are 9,000 state banks as against only 4,500 national banks.

It's in the state banks where the big scandals have been occurring — in some cases right under the nose of the FDIC. The FDIC was involved when Orville Hodge stole $1,200,000 in Illinois. And one reason Burkett got such enthusiastic backing from his banking officials was because he cleaned up a serious little-publicized
banking scandal in California.

There, Gus Johnson, longtime treasurer of California, a Republican, was caught owing the banks $101,000. These were the same banks in which he placed millions of dollars of state funds interest-free. Whenever certain banks wanted some state money to help finance their balance they could call up Gus Johnson and he would oblige with interest-free deposits.

Here is what Banking Superintendent Burkett found that the banks did in return:

"The Central Bank of Oakland,"
he found, "wrote off $68,999 of a loan to Johnson as a loss. The directors believed the loan should not have been made... the bank was a depository for millions of dollars of state funds at the time
it made loans to Johnson."

"The American Trust Co. loaned Johnson $13,700 at favorable interest rates over a 10-year period," Burkett also reported, "finally writing off $3,000 to losses, despite the fact that he had $4,363
or deposit in his commercial account."

"Johnson borrowed several thousand dollars a year from Trans-America Corporation," Burkett also reported, "and to this date
some $40,000 of loans to Johnson have not been repaid."

When Frank Belgrano became head of Transamerica, he promptly cleaned this up.

The superintendent of banks also charged the treasurer of California with using state supplies, telephone and state workers "for promoting his mining stock sales and other promotional schemes." Johnson was forced to resign, is now under further investigation.

Though the California scandal was mentioned only casually in the California press and pretty well-suppressed in the Republican-controlled legislature, Burkett's work was known in banking circles throughout the nation and that's why state bankers recommended him so vigorously, though unsuccessfully, for the FDIC.

Note — What labor needs today is a czar like Burkett to ride herd on its union funds and for labor
what Kenesaw Mountain Landis did to clean up baseball. Men like Hoffa and Dave Beck have destroyed so much public confidence in labor, that it will take a tough cleaner-up to restore public confidence.

Beauty is Found

In All Sizes

CHICAGO — If you've wondered what special characteristics
bring a girl a beauty title, you have company.

One airline looked over the former beauty title-holders at its training center for stewardesses and concluded their height and other dimensions were as varied as Chicago's weather.

One trainee, once queen of a New Year's Eve dance, has brown hair and eyes, weight 130 pounds and stands five feet, seven inches.

Another former queen is a black-haired beauty. She has hazel eyes, stands five feet, three inches and weighs in at 110.

A third trainee, formerly queen
of the county, is also five feet, three inches, but from there on she's different. She has blonde hair, brown eyes and weighs 108 pounds.

New Faces This Season on TV Hit Parade

Will Have Band
Leader Don Walker,
Successful Scorer

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (U.P.)—"Your Hit Parade" will trot out five fresh faces this TV season. And according to incoming bandleader Don Walker,
the show will offer a new sound,
too.

Walker will replace Raymond Scott, who piled out the door along with Gisele MacKenzie, Dorothy Collins, Snooky Lanson and Russell Arms. Walker's crew will be made up of Jill Corey, Ginny Gibson, Tommy Leonetti and Alan Copeland.

Walker, the 46-year-old scorer of such Broadway musicals as "Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees," and "The Most Happy Fella," feels the NBC-TV show was due for a musical overhaul.

"Up to now the policy on the show has leaned toward imitating the record that made a hit out of a song," said Walker. "The trouble with that was it was impossible in a TV studio to set up the artificial conditions that prevail in a recording studio. TV just can't gimmick up a sound the way records do."

Seeking Different Effect

"So, this season we're going to work for a different effect. We're going to try to get a closer coordination between the production and the music—you know, so the music s-a-y-s what your eyes are showing you."

The Hit Parade band—the same
NBC house orchestra that Raymond Scott used—will sound different, too, said Walker.

"I always score for TV and radio with a great deal of depth," said Walker. "And I try for a wide sound, too. You're going to hear a lot of highs and lows from the band, a lot of brilliance. I don't like to waste notes. The idea is to have each one work."

"And there's going to be a lot of comedy in the music. I like humor in music. I like an amusing quality—it's the sort of thing I tried to get into 'Pal Joey,' another show I scored."

Walker, a product of Lambert-ville, N. J., and the University of Pennsylvania (where he made his musical debut as the sixth member of "Lew Chapman's Inter-Fraternity Five"), aimed originally at an accounting job. However, Fred Waring lured Walker
into his stable as an arranger.

Scored 76 Broadway Shows

After four years with Waring, Walker turned to Broadway where he scored 76 shows. In recent years he also has worked on TV commercials. His most notable effort in this line—a musical miniature based on "The Most Happy Fella" for a cigar firm—brought him to the attention of the cigarette sponsor of "Your Hit Parade."

A student of the piano, pipe organ, sax, clarinet, flute and trombone, Walker will get one big break
on "Your Hit Parade" this sea-

SHORT PAGE—Robert (Tuck) Stricklin, 10, front, is believed to be the youngest U. S. Senate page ever appointed. Faced with a shortage of page boys, due to a number of them departing to get ready for college, Sen. Francis Case (R-S.
D.), persuaded the Senate to set aside the limitation that no page be under 14. Tuck, from nearby Alexandria, Va., is followed down the Capitol steps by Tony P. David,
of Washington, D. C.

son—he should have more interesting tunes to work with than Raymond Scott.

"I don't think there's any doubt the ballad is making a comeback," said Walker, "and that rock 'n' roll is falling off a bit. I like some rock 'n' roll myself but since it's based on repetitive phrases, it tends to become monotonous over a long period."

"This season the show will get back to more of the moonlight dancing kind of thing and all of those wonderful romantic songs."

King, Union, Keynote Tops in Clippings

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Movie stars seem to be most frequently in the news, but the three biggest jobs ever tackled by Luce press clipping bureau concerned a king, a labor union and a keynote speech.

The bureau collected over 30,000 newspaper clippings in a single month on the American visit of Saudi Arabia's King Saud. The largest previous order was for a labor union that wanted clippings about a 1956 strike. More than 16, 000 clippings were sent in a month.
Democratic keynote Gov. Frank G. Clement, of Tennessee, also pulled 16,000 clippings for his convention speech in 1956.

Probably the earliest stone-paved road in history was built in Egypt about 3,000 B.C., when the Great Pyramid was built. In order to move the huge stone blocks to make up the pyramid, a smooth road of polished stone was built about 60 feet wide and half a mile long.

Pressure Cans Revolutionize Merchandising

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — You push the little valve down and the trichloromono-fluoro-methane goes down and around the pigeon repellent comes out here.

That is pretty much how the pressure cans that have revolutionized a large segment of American merchandising work. A shake of a can, a press of a button, a gas expands and out comes the product—everything from pigeon repellent to dry vermouth, fire extinguishing foam to whipped cream, rose dust to scouring powder.

And more and more cans are being shaken, buttons pressed and products sprayed every year. In 1956, some 240,000,000 assorted pressure cans, carrying a total value of $250,000,000 were manufactured; back in 1947, the first year sales were large enough to measure, the figure was a paltry 5,000,000 units manufactured.

That's a gain of 4,800 per cent in about nine years, which is a fairly high pressure percentage. The reason for the gain is simply that pressure cans offer the consumer a handy dispenser of a wide variety of products.

The pressure can dates from World War II. Scientists developed a "bug bomb" for fighting insects in the South Pacific and for de-lousing in occupied countries. The bug bomb carried over into civilian use after the war, and insecticides are still the number one seller in the pressurized can field.

But what once was a wide lead is now a slim one. So many products have been adapted to pressure cans that the insecticide can's lead is being threatened by several other types.

In 1956, 56,000,000 cans of various kinds of insect spray were made; 53,700,000 cans of assorted hair spray; 45,400,000 cans of lather shaving cream; 32,100,000 cans of room deodorants; and millions upon millions of cans of odds and ends like shampoos, paints, artificial snow, perfume, sun tan oil, waxes, oven cleaners, rug cleaners and virtually anything you can imagine.

And there are other millions of cans of products for industrial use made, too.

Actually, there are two kinds of pressure cans, technically known as two-phase or three-phase. Sometimes people call them "aerosols," but that is a misnomer unless applied strictly to two-phase cans. Aerosol means to diffuse through the air, which is what an insecticide or room deodorant does, but nobody diffuses whipped cream or paint through the air unless he's sneaky.

The two-phase can is the true aerosol. It's a gas-tight package with a pipe extending from the valve at the top to the bottom of the can. Two-thirds of the can is filled with the liquid phase of the operation, a mixture of the active ingredient (like, say, insecticide) and liquefied gas. The top third has the gas itself, the propellant.

This top layer of gas continually exerts pressure downward. But nothing happens until the button is pressed, which opens the valve. Then the pressure of the gas forces some of the liquefied matter up the pipe and out into the air. The gas in the liquid vaporizes on hitting the air and expands some 240 times, a physical change so powerful that the active ingredient (insecticide) is blasted apart and sprays around the room.

Meanwhile, back in the can, there's now more room in the top, or gassy, phase of the can. So some of the gas in the liquid vaporizes within the can, joining the gas layer thus keeping the pressure constant.

The three-phase is used for products that will not mix with the liquid gas. Thus, there are three layers inside the can — the gas, the liquid active ingredient (like hair spray) and the liquid gas. When the valve is pressed, just the ingredient is forced out.

A variation on this is the foam-type can—like the shaving cream dispenser. There are the same three layers, but, when you shake the can, the two liquids are mixed. And, when the valve is pressed, enough gas is ejected to vaporize and whip the soap solution into a foam.

All three types must be packaged carefully. Shipping, packing, storing are all closely watched, for pressure cans can, under certain circumstances, explode.

The success of pressure cans and the problems of packing have created a new subsidiary industry—the contract fillers. Only a few of the biggest manufacturers of ingredients package their own.

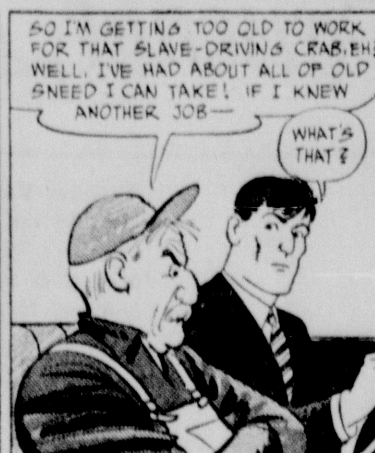

Most farm out the packing to a growing list of small plants that do nothing but fill pressure cans. The future looks big. In the works are containers made of plastic and glass and methods which will make it possible to package dry products—like face powder, sugar, fertilizer—in pressure packages.

And all you'll have to do is push the button.

The bride wore a suit of palest orchid with white accessories and a white picture hat. She carried an orchid on a white Bible.

Shirley Parton, close friend of the bride served as her maid of honor and wore a white sheath dress trimmed in navy blue. Her corsage was of white glamelias.

Robert Hooven, Stonefort, was the best man.

Janet Black, niece of the bride, was her flower girl and wore a white and navy dress. She carried a nosegay of baby chrysanthemums. Carl Edward Murphy, nephew of the bride, seated the guests.

Nina Black sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always", accompanied by Dorothy Hancock at the piano.

There was a small reception at the home of the bride's mother, immediately following the wedding. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Murrow left for a honeymoon trip through the southern states.

Mr. Murrow was graduated from CMCHS with the class of 1953 and is employed at the Chicopee company factory at Bensenville.

The bride was graduated from CMHS last June and has been employed in the Lloyd L. Parker furniture store, Harrisburg.

Here to Direct 'Laff-O-Rama' Set for Sept. 11-12

Miss Helen Logan arrived in Harrisburg today to direct and coordinate the activities of the local citizens who will participate in the various activities in connection with "Laff-O-Rama", an area presentation which will be staged Sept. 11-12 at the Bonnell gymnasium for the benefit of the picnic shelter at the Harrisburg township park.

When interviewed about the forthcoming circus Miss Logan said "I'm most enthusiastic about the possibilities for an outstanding production in Harrisburg. I have something entirely new and different in the way of community entertainment and everyone I have met is excited about the possibilities. Certainly I have found enthusiastic response to this new idea and all the committee and townspeople are so friendly and co-operative I am sure I shall enjoy my stay here."

Miss Logan met with Bill Hollomon, president of the Harrisburg Lions club and members of the Lions club committee, which is presenting the big event. Plans are being made for various phases of promotion and those to perform are being chosen, so co-ordination of the affair will start at once.

"Laff-O-Rama" has the unqualified recommendation of many other towns in the United States and Canada where it has been seen. The organization is confident it will be a worthy addition to the entertainment season.

Canada Sends Down Cool Air

Mercury Drops to Forties and Fifties In Northeast Area

By United Press
A cool air blast from Canada, bearing more than a little hint of autumn, spread into the nation's northeast today and sent readings skidding into the 40s and 50s.

Heavy rains broke out along the southern border of the cool air mass, soaking Indianapolis with 85 of an inch during a six-hour period Tuesday night and dumping 75-inch at Hill City, Kan.

Light rain also fell in the cool air over the Northern Plains and Great Lakes.

The cool air advance into the northeast dropped temperatures by an average of 10 to 20 degrees.

Fair and cooler weather is predicted today for the Northeast, but scattered showers are seen from the Northern and Central Plains eastward into the Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley.

Smith Rites Thursday At Miller Funeral Home

The funeral of Jacob Henry Smith, 91, resident of Carrier Mills, who died Tuesday, will be held in the Miller funeral home, Carrier Mills, at 2 p. m. Thursday. Oral E. Partain will officiate and burial will be in the Salem cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Hartley Leverett, Elmer Leverett, Harley Smith, Allen Diaz, Waldo Leverett and Willie Reynolds.

Surviving are his son, Carl Smith, of Carrier Mills and his daughter, Miss Elva Smith of Chicago. Two sisters survive, Mrs. Kate Pankey, Linton, Ind. and Mrs. Hattie Eddings, San Antonio, Texas. There are four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. His wife, Belle, preceded him in death in 1919.

Draft Board Member Can't Be Director Of Hospital District

SPRINGFIELD — A member of a local draft board cannot legally be named a director of a hospital district organized under state hospital district law, Atty. Gen. Latham Castle ruled Monday.

In an official opinion filed for Franklin County State's Atty. Joseph W. Hickman, Castle said an officer or employee of the state or federal government is disqualified from being appointed to a hospital district board.

Federal Court decisions and the U. S. Constitution "make it apparent" that local draft board members are United States officers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of John W. Duncan, who departed this life, Feb. 26th, 1957:
The face I loved is now laid low.
His loving voice is stilled.
The hand so often clasped in mine
Lies now in death's cold chill.
I often sit and think of him,
When I am all alone.
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
Greatly missed by his wife Amba
and six children. 52-1

THE STORY: In a gun duel on Blue Springs' main street, federal Marshal Harney Blanchard, kills Si Hanna, a gun fighter who was hired as town marshal to drive the U. S. marshal out of town. Harney had refused to leave before he found Pete Dorsey, a federal prisoner who was kidnapped.

XV
The light brightened and grew and the train moved in on us. Blanchard said, "Let's go." He moved south along the wall. He turned the corner and I followed. Blanchard stopped and stared into the dark of Peterson's hide yard. He looked for a long time. There was nothing to see but the rails of the old loading pens and two big derricks that Peterson used for loading the bundles of pressed hides into railroad cars. Then Blanchard turned back to the tracks. We stood there a time, watching the light. With a thin squeal and a hissing the engine pulled up, the driving rods pushing slow. The light passed and we were in dark again.

Blanchard looked around the corner and I moved out to go around him for a look but his arm reached out and held me back. But I could see, just the same, against the train light. The train stopped and a thick old man who was conductor eased down from the first coach.

Cole Jethroe hadn't got off that train. Nobody had.

"All right," Blanchard said, moving around the corner. "Nothing to stay for now."

We moved north along the depot. I was afraid of what Blanchard was thinking. "She wasn't sure," I said. "Dan didn't tell her all of it. Besides, maybe Cole got held up along the line somewhere. Maybe he'll be on the morning train."

"Maybe."

We walked to Chicago St. A light burned in the livery and the big door was open. I thought about Owen and I wondered where he'd been when Si Hanna made his move. Now, I thought, let him say something smart about Blanchard.

Passing the livery, I saw Owen moving to the door inside the barn. He led the gray gelding he rented for a pack horse. A bent man with a scraggly beard came out behind Owen. I recognized Birch Crone and I thought it was a mighty unusual time for Birch to be renting the pack horse. And something else. Usually he wanted the saw-buck saddle. Now he had one on the gray with box panniers. Birch said he was a prospector, when anybody asked. He wandered a lot in the ravines and breaks south of Buffalo Basin. I'd seen him out there more than once. Some folks said he had old Spanish silver cached in a cave out in the breaks. I didn't believe it. I didn't believe he was a prospector, either, unless he was crazy. Far as I knew, nobody had found anything but buffalo bones out in that country.

I stopped across the street from the livery and Blanchard waited while I kept an eye on Birch. He got on a little pinto that he usually rode and moved out on Chicago St., heading south, the gelding stepping along behind him.

I knew Birch did a little work for the Clements in the hunting season. Not much, because Birch didn't care for work. It came to me in kind of a wild way in my head that maybe Birch was doing a little more work for the Clements. It got wilder yet and I thought that maybe I knew where Pete Dorsey was, in kind of a general way.

I motioned to Blanchard and we moved across to the livery. Owen stood in the doorway, looking hard at Blanchard. I saw the buggy then, off by the corner. It looked new, with a shiny paint and bright metal. Owen saw me looking and took on a big, excited smile.

"I guess," he said, "you want to know whose buggy."

"Whose?" I said, sharp.

"Well, now . . . let's see can I remember." Owen put his hand to his mouth, like he was thinking. It didn't fool me. Big, fat, stupid Owen, playing games on a night like this one. I got mad.

"Whose?"

"I remember. Cole Jethroe. Yes, sir. Come in half an hour ago from the north."

I could have killed Owen right then. Showing off for Blanchard, making a fool of himself. Cole Jethroe in town and he makes a joke of it. I barked, "Where is he, Owen?"

Owen pulled at his lower lip. "Pike, he just left the buggy and put up the horses and moseyed off."

Blanchard stared at Owen. There was no use going to see Lillian now. But maybe there was, too. Maybe Cole would go to see her. Then I thought about Birch Crone riding south. I couldn't put down the feeling about him but I knew we had to look for Cole. I decided Blanchard would have to look for Cole by himself.

"You'll have to look for Cole, Harney," I said. "I got riding to do."

Blanchard looked south. "That rider with the pack outfit?"

I nodded. "It's just a hunch. Crazy, maybe."

I threw my saddle on Pilot and pulled the bridle up and got mad at him when he clamped his teeth. But then the bit clicked in and I let him stand while I went out of the stall, moving as fast as I could. I nearly ran Owen down.

"You . . . need help, Pike?"

"No," I said and ran for the left ladder. Owen helping, I thought. That was something. I stumbled through the dark in the loft and then lit a match and grabbed my Springfield and picked a pocketful of shells out from my old war bag.

Lots of Interesting Spots in Hardin Co.; There's Cave-in-Rock Park; Also Rugged Rocks, Rambling River, Shawnee Forest

MASSIVE IS THE WORD for the Old Illinois Furnace, located north of Rosiclare. Iron ore was smelted here during the Civil war. (SIU Photo Service)

ONCE A HIDEOUT FOR PIRATES, Cave-in-Rock offers a beautiful view of the Ohio River. The state park provides tourists with complete picnicking and playground facilities. (SIU Photo)

Hardin County (This is the third of a series of six articles describing scenic, historical and recreational features of the six-county Shawnee Hills area).

Rugged rocks and a rambling river provide much of the scenic beauty awaiting the tourist who visits Hardin County in Southeast Illinois.

Bordered on two sides by the historic Ohio River, Hardin County is completely engulfed by beautiful Shawnee National Forest, the only federal forest in the state.

Cave-in-Rock State Park, where Highway 1 meets the Ohio, is one of the county's main attractions. Here huge caves in a bluff overlooking the river once housed pirates who preyed on flatboats bringing early settlers to the Midwest.

Later, the notorious Harte brothers used the caves as headquarters for their outlaw band. Federal troops captured the survivors of the gang in 1834.

This is the setting Walt Disney chose for his recent movie, "Davy Crockett and the River Pirates".

Complete Facilities

Cave-in-Rock offers complete picnicking and playground facilities, excellent hiking trails, and all types of boating accommodations. The scenery is ideal for amateur photographers. Special areas are reserved for campers.

Of historic interest is the Old Illinois Furnace, located four miles north of the Rosiclare junction of routes 146 and 34. Here the tourist will see a rock furnace where iron ore was smelted during the Civil War. Pieces of molten rock still can be found and may be kept as souvenirs. The furnace's massive chimney, put together without the use of mortar, is a marvel of pioneer construction.

Well-shaded picnicking facilities are available to the tourist. A nearby creek provides a pleasant place for wading or fishing.

On the river front in the quaint village of Elizabethtown stands the Rose Hotel, oldest hotel in the state in years of continuous operation.

Famous as a stopping place for early Ohio River travelers, the hotel is situated on a high bluff from which the tourist can see a wide stretch of the river. The town offers facilities for boating and fishing and a small riverfront park is favored by picnickers. Elizabethtown is located on Route 146.

Pounds Escarpment, a rocky, steep slope which can be entered without difficulty at only one point, is well suited to tourists who enjoy outings in the rough, back woods country.

Although actually located in neighboring Gallatin County, the Escarpment is approached from the Hardin side. The area can be reached by turning west off Route 1 about seven miles south of the junction of 1 and 13.

Cars may be driven to the Escarpment picnic grounds, which are about three-quarters of a mile beyond the entrance to Pounds Hollow Lake. A trail around the Escarpment provides a mile of hiking in beautiful natural scenery.

Centuries of cutting action of water on solid sandstone have created the unusual rock formations. Clinging to the area is an atmosphere of antiquity, since the Escarpment is believed to have housed Indians and possibly even earlier inhabitants of the continent.

Today, picnickers and hikers are the "inhabitants". Drinking water and rest rooms are available for campers.

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Dean Miller, a confirmed bachelor, says he has the marital situation solved. After he finishes the day's work as the husband in CBS-TV's "December Bride" series in which he constantly argues with his "wife," Miller goes home to his peaceful bachelor apartment.

A LIVING REMINDER of the early 19th century is Elizabethtown's Rose Hotel, oldest hotel in the state in years of continuous operation. A major tourist attraction in Hardin County, the hotel has accommodated thousands of Ohio River travelers. (SIU Photo Service)

WASHINGTON — Some Hollywood stars retire to the Riviera. Others live in musty mansions on Sunset Boulevard. Ilona Massey has become a suburbanite.

With her lawyer-husband, Donald Dawson, Miss Massey lives in a two-bedroom rambler type house on their "Happy Valley" estate in Bethesda, Md., a suburb of Washington.

Dawson was an administrative assistant under former president Harry Truman.

There are interruptions, of course. Like the time recently when Miss Massey was arrested near her home for driving her white convertible without license tags.

She explained at police headquarters that she'd bought the car in Chicago and driven 705 miles more through Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Maryland without being stopped. (One admirer wondered how the arresting officer took his

Hickory Smoke Overcomes Injuries, Cops Big Race

Berra's Bat Brings Yanks Home; Now Lead Chi-Sox By Margin of 4½ Games

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Yogi Berra claims he's having a "lousy year," but it's still plenty good enough to give the Yankees a pennant lift every time they seem to need it most.

By most standards this hasn't been a particularly good year for Yogi. He's batting only .248 and that figure hardly appears to command the $65,000 the Yankees are paying him this year.

The White Sox, however, are convinced he's worth every penny of it, especially after what he did to them Tuesday night. Berra batted in six runs, breaking Chicago's back with a three-run homer in the eighth inning that snapped a 6-all tie and powered the Yanks to a 12-6 victory.

Yanks Pad Lead

Yogi's 20th homer, which represented only one of his four hits, also halted a six-game Chicago winning streak and a growing impression that the White Sox might overtake the Yankees in the American League race. By winning, the Yankees increased their lead to 4½ games.

The Red Sox defeated the Tigers, 7-5, in 11 innings; Cleveland edged Baltimore, 5-4, and Kansas City beat Washington, 3-1.

Over in the National League, the Milwaukee Braves continued their march toward the World Series with a 4-3 triumph over the Giants. The Cubs beat the Dodgers, 9-4; Cincinnati licked Philadelphia, 5-2, and the Pirates defeated the Cardinals, 2-1, after St. Louis scored an 11-2 win in the completion of a game suspended on July 21.

Dick Gernert supplied the winning blow for Boston in the 11th when he smacked a two-run single off Duke Maas. The hit scored Jackie Jensen and Ted Williams, who collected his 32nd homer and a single in four trips to the plate, raising his league-leading average to .380.

Burdette Gets 14th

Early Wynn scattered eight hits in notching his 14th victory at the expense of the Orioles and Jack Urban of the Athletics held the Senators to three hits in beating Camilo Pascual.

Home runs by Red Schoendienst, Eddie Mathews and Frank Torre carried the Braves to their victory over the Giants.

Lew Burdette registered his 14th victory of the season for the Braves with the help of rookie Don McMahon, who retired the last six batters in order. It was Milwaukee's fifth victory in the last seven games.

Ernie Banks drove in five runs with his 30th home run and a double as rookie Dick Drott of the Cubs registered his first victory over the Dodgers. Drott had to be bailed out by Turk Lown in the ninth after the Brooks scored two runs. Don Newcombe suffered his 11th defeat. Gil Hodges homered for the Dodgers, who dropped eight games off the pace.

Musial Increase Streak

Bob Thurman, recalled from the minors Monday, blasted a three-run homer in the ninth to help the Redlegs snap a three-game losing streak.

Lindy McDaniel was credited with his 11th victory in the Cardinals-Pirates suspended game which was resumed in the ninth inning. By serving as a pinch runner, Stan Musial added 33 games to his consecutive playing streak which came to a halt last Friday at 895 games, a NL record.

Bob Friend held the Cardinals to five hits for his 10th victory in the regularly scheduled game.

Dayton Joins Festival

DAYTON, Ohio — The University of Dayton, traditionally a national basketball power, looked forward today to a regular schedule of 23 games plus others in the New York Holiday Festival Dec. 26-30. Other teams in the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden are California, Connecticut, Manhattan, New York University, Pittsburgh, Temple and Seattle.

Musial Not Sorry Playing Streak Ended at 895 Tilts

PITTSBURGH — The "long playing" record of Stan Musial went into the National League books at 895 consecutive games, but the St. Louis Cardinals' star wasn't perturbed because his streak was over.

The Donora dandy entered the resumption of the suspended game against the Pirates in the ninth inning Tuesday night. He ran for Ken Boyer and then played first base when the Pirates took their last turn at bat. Musial's record was temporarily halted at 862 games when he did not appear in the lineup against Pittsburgh when the game was originally started July 21. Play was suspended that day in the ninth inning because of the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew and Stan had an opportunity to extend his own record.

A writer asked Stan Tuesday night if he had any regrets because his "iron man" stint came to an end.

"None at all," Musial replied. "I don't take any talent to play every day."

Browns Drop Five

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Browns pro football roster numbered 42 players today after five rookies were dropped. The five were highly touted fullback John (The Beast) Bayuk of Colorado, halfback Charley Harris of Georgia, linebacker Milt Rotunno of Michigan and tackles Tom Guland of Mississippi State and Gerald Stone of Southeast Louisiana.

Eight Win $5,797.60

DETROIT — Eight lucky ticket holders counted their blessings and winnings today after cashing in on 1957 record payoffs for both a single race and daily double. Miss Profit made it possible by winning the first race at the Detroit track Tuesday and paying $347. Lon won the second race at $43 to set up a $5,797.60 double—all for a $2 ticket.

Hoot Song Next Best Horse in Hambletonian

Du Quoin Classic Seen by Record Throng of 25,000

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. — Hickory Smoke, a crippled bay colt of blue ribbon lineage, had to trot the second and fourth fastest heats in Hambletonian history to convince his driver, Johnny Simpson, that he could win trotting's richest 3-year-old stakes.

Then he coasted home by half-a-length in front of Hoot Song, the daughter of another Hambletonian winner, to grab the top possible prize of $47,917.62 in the 32nd running of the famed harness event.

Simpson, 37, winning the stakes for the first time, thought 2:01 would win the prize chase. But his horse was crippled a month ago and started only twice since. Two weeks ago he barked a leg and since then he was under constant treatment.

Becomes Confident

"I was confident we could win after our heat," Simpson said. "I was worried about them, particularly Buckeye Demon and Storm Cloud."

Hickory Smoke had the answer to Buckeye Demon and Storm Cloud and every other opponent. He trotted his first heat in 2:01, then the third fastest time on record for the race. An hour later he turned the second heat in 2:00 1-5, the second fastest time in history and only 1-5th of a second off the record set by Hoot Mon in 1947.

It was a match race against Hoot Song, who was clocked at 2:02 1-5 and 2:02 in winning her two heats against nine challengers. Hence, the time of the final mile was below 2:08 4-5. Hickory Smoke followed the swiftly-opening gate to go in front by a length and when Hoot Song made no attempt to get in front, he simply held the margin.

Fast Final Quarter

But Hoot Song challenged at the head of the stretch and Hickory Smoke trotted the final quarter in 28 3-5 seconds, exceptionally fast time.

"After we passed the seven-eighth pole, I knew we had it won," Simpson said. "I was eased up in the last 25 yards."

Simpson was proud of his horse, but he said flatly "he can do better." His best time Tuesday was 2 1-5 seconds behind a mark set on the same track by his father, Titan Hanover, Hambletonian winner in 1945, who as a 3-year-old set a world record of 1:58 on the same course.

"Smoke ought to do 59 or 59 1-5 before the season ends," Simpson said. "It's no way to train for a race like the Hambletonian, without competition. It's hard to bring a horse up to it on workouts only."

Heat Wins

Hickory Smoke won his first over Buckeye Demon, son of another Hambletonian winner, Demon Hanover, by a head and his second heat by a length over the same opponent. Hoot Song meanwhile scored by one length and again by two over Section Man.

Both remained off the pace during the early trottings in each heat and both came up in the stretch with blazing speed to limit the finals to a two-horse test.

The payoff gave Hickory Smoke, the winter book favorite for the stakes, lifetime earnings of $89,281.62 with five victories, a second and a third in 13 starts this year. Hoot Song won $26,136.88 to increase her lifetime earnings to

Champion Patterson Named Fighter of Month by Magazine

NEW YORK — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson was named "Fighter of the Month" today for an unprecedented second straight time by Ring Magazine, which announced its monthly rating of boxers of the world.

Patterson drew the accolade for his knockout title defense over Pete Rademacher.

Also in the heavyweight division, the magazine moved Zora Folley up to the No. 2 contender's slot behind Eddie Machen, as Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson dropped from No. 2 to No. 3 as a result of his defeat by Patterson.

A two-round knockout of Bobo Olson moved Pat McMurry up from ninth to seventh as Bob Satterfield and Ingemar Johansson dropped one place each.

In the middleweight class, Rory Calhoun moved up from fifth to third, while Joey Giambra dropped from fifth to third. Charley Joseph moved from seventh to sixth, Bobby Boyd moved ninth to eighth, and Del Flanagan took over ninth as Ralph (Tiger) Jones dropped out.

In the welterweight class, Gaspar Ortega dropped from third to sixth because of his loss to Kid Gavilan while Virgil Akins moved from fourth to second on his knockout of Sugar Hart. Vince Martinez moved from fifth to fourth and Charley Smith from sixth to fifth.

Joe Lopez' draw with lightweight champion Joe Brown earned him the No. 8 spot in that class. Paolo Rosi moved up from eighth to sixth, Baby Vasquez fell from sixth to seventh, Larry Boardman dropped from seventh to ninth.

Can Get Waterfowl, Pheasant Hunting Permits Sept. 1-25

SPRINGFIELD — Conservation Director Glen D. Palmer today announced a hunting permit office here will accept applications for waterfowl and pheasant hunting Sept. 1-25.

Palmer said one major change will be in effect in goose hunting regulations this year—half of the public goose hunting pits at Horseshoe Lake and Union county refuges will be filled by permits issued here, and the other half by public drawings each morning at the hunting areas.

Hunters may apply for one pheasant hunting permit, one duck permit and one goose permit.

Goose permits will be issued for the period Nov. 15-Dec. 27, although the goose season at both refuges opens Nov. 8.

Palmer said the department will begin mailing waterfowl permits Oct. 5, and upland game permits later in the month.

The duck season opens Oct. 19 and the pheasant season Nov. 11. Daily use fees of $2 for waterfowl and $4 for pheasants will be charged.

Public goose hunting areas are Horseshoe Lake and Union County. Public pheasant areas are Chain O'Lakes, Green River, Des Plaines, Iroquois County, Shelby County, Clinton County and Belle River.

Joe Lopez' draw with lightweight champion Joe Brown earned him the No. 8 spot in that class. Paolo Rosi moved up from eighth to sixth, Baby Vasquez fell from sixth to seventh, Larry Boardman dropped from seventh to ninth.

Bud Parker Will Coach Pitt Pros

PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh Steelers signed Buddy Parker Tuesday night to a five-year contract as head coach to replace ailing pilot Walt Kiesling.

Parker came to terms with Steeler President Art Rooney just two weeks after he startled the sports world by announcing at a fan banquet that he was quitting his $30,000 post as coach of the Detroit Lions.

"Walt asked to be relieved so I talked with Parker," Rooney told the United Press here in a telephone conversation from his Atlantic City, N. J., hotel room. "He was our only choice. He was Walt's choice."

No "Pressure" Involved

Rooney said the decision for Kiesling to step down after four years at the helm was "completely his own — he was never under any pressure."

Kiesling was ill most of last season with a kidney condition and spent a week in a Minneapolis hospital while his team prepared for a game on the West Coast.

Rooney said Kiesling would be retained with the Steelers "at his present salary" in an advisory position. "That's what Parker wanted."

The Steeler president refused to discuss what salary Parker would get. But other sources indicated the pay would be substantially the same as the $30,000 a year Parker received from Detroit.

WASHINGTON COULDN'T WAIT

But if the leader of our Revolutionary War forces had, he'd have found crossing the Delaware a lot easier. Gay Yeager of Newton, Pa., stands in the spot where Washington started the famed winter crossing. Severe drought has brought the river down to where one can wade across it. It normally is 13-15 feet deep.

A-BOMB VETS—Air Force Maj. Robert Lewis, left, reminisces with Rev. Hubert Schiffer, S. J., as the two men meet at Fordham University on the 12th anniversary of the dropping of the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima. Lewis was pilot of the Enola Gay, the plane that dropped the first bomb, while Father Schiffer was only "eight blocks" from ground zero when the bomb went off. The latter, after a long period of convalescence, is now taking time out from his work in Japan to study for a doctorate in economics at Fordham University.

Quell Colorado Reformatory Riot

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — A small band of guards charged into a mob of 100 rioters at the Colorado Reformatory Tuesday night and quelled the disturbance within an hour.

Warden James Thomas said he couldn't understand the outbreak of violence which left one inmate dead and two others gravely injured.

"The only reason we've heard is that the boys thought they were worked too hard," Thomas said.

Most of the 380 inmates, some teen-aged first offenders and others with extensive criminal records, work on farm land and are now in harvest season.

Everesto Gomez, 23, of Denver, who touched off the riot by attacking guard Robert Alinger with a table leg, was shot to death.
